A. Explanation of the relative importance the firm gave to the execution factors of price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution or any other consideration including qualitative factors when assessing the quality of execution;

In assessing the relative importance of the execution factors, BNP Paribas will consider the following criteria:

- the characteristics of the client including the regulatory categorisation of the client;
- the nature of the client's instructions;
- the characteristics of the transaction;
- the characteristics of the financial instrument; and
- the characteristics of the execution venues to which the transaction can be directed.

Subject to any specific instructions, taking into account the criteria above, BNP Paribas will generally prioritise for this business activity the execution factors in the following order:

- I. Size of the request
- II. Speed
- III. Price
- IV. Likelihood of execution
- V. Likelihood of settlement
- VI. Ability of execution venue to manage the quotation request

However, the execution factors chosen may vary depending where;

- I. market liquidity is insufficient to fully execute the order;
- II. a client provides specific execution instructions;
- III. market conditions indicate that in applying the execution factors in the order stated may result in a worse outcome for the client.

B. Description of any close links, conflicts of interests, and common ownerships with respect to any execution venues used to execute orders;

F. Explanation of whether other criteria were given precedence over immediate price and cost when executing retail client orders and how these other criteria were instrumental in delivering the best possible result in terms of the total consideration to the client;

BNP Paribas does not generally execute trades with retail clients. In the limited circumstance where trades are executed with retail clients, BNP Paribas considers total consideration (price and execution costs) to be the primary execution factor. If any other factors were to take precedence, this would only occur following discussion with and agreement of the retail client.

G. Explanation of how the investment firm has used any data or tools relating to the quality of execution, including any data published under RTS 27;

BNP Paribas utilises a number of processes to analyse the quality of its execution arrangements based on benchmark data where available

H. Where applicable, an explanation of how the investment firm has used output of a consolidated tape provider established under Article 65 of Directive 2014/65/EU.

BNPP does not currently use any CTP for analysis of best execution, but will monitor the availability of such providers and the quality of information provided as part of on-going reviews of our best execution arrangements
